BIOGRAPHY — 67 Words

James Romig endeavors to create intricate musical compositions in which isomorphic designs exert influence on both small-scale iteration and large-scale structure, obscuring boundaries between content and form. Critics have described his work as “rapturous, slow-moving beauty” (San Francisco Chronicle), “developing with the naturalness of breathing” (The New Yorker), and “profoundly meditative... haunting” (The Wire). His Still, for solo piano, was a finalist for the 2019 Pulitzer Prize.

BIOGRAPHY — 303 Words

James Romig endeavors to create intricate musical compositions in which isomorphic designs exert influence on both small-scale iteration and large-scale structure, obscuring boundaries between content and form. Webs of overlapping systems generate multivalent sonic environments that invite listeners to become enmeshed in a dreamlike intermingling of past, present, and future. Critics have described his work as “rapturous, slow-moving beauty” (San Francisco Chronicle), “developing with the naturalness of breathing” (The New Yorker), and “profoundly meditative... haunting” (The Wire). His Still, for solo piano, was a finalist for the 2019 Pulitzer Prize. The Complexity of Distance, composed in 2020 for electric guitarist Mike Scheidt (of the venerable doom metal band YOB), reached #8 on the Billboard classical crossover chart and inspired Seattle’s Holy Mountain Brewing to create a namesake beer in its honor. Romig is a two-time Copland House award recipient and has served as artist-in-residence at national parks including Everglades, Grand Canyon, and Petrified Forest. Guest composer presentations include visits to the Eastman School of Music, the Cincinnati Conservatory, SUNY Buffalo, the Clyfford Still Museum, and the American Academy in Rome. His scores are published by Parallax Music Press, and recordings have been released by New World Records, Sawyer Editions, A Wave Press, Relapse Records, and Perspectives of New Music. Romig’s music has been performed in 37 countries and 49 states by notable performers such as the Quad City Symphony Orchestra, Hypercube, JACK, Talujon, NOISE, Louis Goldstein, Craig Hultgren, Taka Kigawa, Ashlee Mack, John McMurtery, Tony Oliver, Doug Perkins, Matt Sargent, and Harvey Sollberger. His primary teachers were Charles Wuorinen and Milton Babbitt, and he holds degrees from the University of Iowa (BM, MA) and Rutgers University (PhD). He has been on faculty at Western Illinois University since 2002, and in 2023 was elected to The Recording Academy (GRAMMY) as a voting member.

REVIEWS AND TESTIMONIALS

... hypnotic ... striking harmonic implications and subtly dramatic effects distill music to its barest essences. — Citation from the 2019 Pulitzer Prize in Music

... rapturous ... sparse, slow-moving beauty. To appreciate its graceful allure takes no more than ears and patience. — San Francisco Chronicle

... alternating sparseness and density develop with the naturalness of breathing. — The New Yorker

... profoundly meditative ... haunting. — The Wire

... whether you approach it on a theory level or as a sonic meditation, the depths welcome you. — The Obelisk

... other-worldly. — BBC Music Magazine

... one thinks of a giant mobile, or the constellations of the night sky, their stars glittering in a profoundly dark background ... a vast space, both broad and deep ... lovely and uncompromising, a rare trick to pull off. — Fanfare

... a mesmerizing trance ... a complex quilt of sound. — Moline Dispatch

[An] instant departure from the expected ... appealing and thought-provoking ... [a] Zen-like musical state. — River Cities Reader (Davenport, Iowa)

... massive, distorted, gain-in-the-red riffs ... synapse-frying distorted rumble ... a steamroller driving down a highway paved with skulls. — Burning Ambulance

... the musical equivalent of fractal geometry ... like a Japanese stone garden. — Classical New Jersey

... prevailingly gentle and gesturally supple ... complex interaction that yields a sonorous sheen of resulting harmonies. — Sequenza 21

... overwhelming sounds of triumph, light, and strength. — Hand of Doom Radio

... a distant place of quiet rapture. — The Baltimore Sun

... ethereal. — American Record Guide

... luminous and beguiling... time seems to fold in on itself. — Dallas Observer

Romig has a flair for creating arresting gestures and musical continuities that both fascinate and please. I regard him as one of the most talented emerging composers at this time. — Robert Morris

He is a very gifted composer whose work shows continual evolution, and I expect he will continue to make a significant contribution to the world of serious music. — Charles Wuorinen

Each stage of [the dissertation's] structure, from the analytically derived "premises," to the analytically motivated "speculative" extensions, to the realization, the instantiations in concrete compositions, is thoughtfully and thoroughly realized.... [Romig] has succeeded in conflating ideas and techniques into a coherent construal.... I suspect—and hope—that this exceptional thesis will be in demand within the knowing musical community, for there is no other comparable document which presents understandingly such a range of musical thought, both in and about music, in "theory," application, and extension.
— Milton Babbitt (review of Ph.D. dissertation.)
